PETITION TO REVIVE A PATENT APPLICATION

Pursuant to 37 CFR 1.137, Applicant petitions the Commissioner for Patents to revive the above identified patent application. The entire delay in filing was unavoidable. Applicants also request that the fee for extending time also be waived in view of the unavoidable delay.

The delay in filing comes from the following facts. An office action in the above-identified patent application was apparently mailed sometime after Jun 11, 2003 to Applicants' attorney. However, Applicants' attorney did not receive the mailing. (Applicants' attorney is a solo practitioner who handles his mail directly.)

Last week, Examiner Kim called Applicants' attorney to confirm that no response would be forthcoming (a service that is appreciated). Upon learning of the existence of an outstanding action, Applicants' attorney immediately started working on the accompanying response.

Applicants failure to respond in time is due solely to the failure to receive a copy of the office action of June 11th, and thus, is unavoidable.

Applicants have included along with this petition the following: a petition fee and a copy of an Amendment in response to the office action in question.

Respectfully submitted:
